

The Center for History and New Media Presents

Virginia 400

The Online Guide to 400 Years of
Virginia History 1607-2007

To mark the 400th anniversary of the English settlement of Jamestown, the Center for History and New Media at George Mason University has created Virginia 400, a portal for finding, teaching, and learning about Virginia History on the web. The site includes:

- An annotated list of Virginia History sites on the web
- A teachers' guide to Virginia History
- A look at featured sites that take an innovative approach to Virginia History
