

what do sippy cups,
mud crocodiles,
and baby bottles
have in common?

They are among the hundreds of items at Children & Youth in History, the first website to focus exclusively on the lived experiences of children and youth over the course of history and across the world.

This outstanding resource for both teachers and students was created by the Center for History and New Media at George Mason University and the University of Missouri-Kansas City with funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities.
